

IMAGINATION BINGO

FALL EDITION

Would you rather go apple picking or bake pumpkin pies all afternoon?

STORY STARTER

It was the perfect pumpkin, but it had one peculiar problem.

After finding an old key in the corn maze, we knew this autumn would be different...

STORY STARTER

The scarecrow winked... at least, I think it did.

Describe your dream Thanksgiving menu with all your favorite foods.

Name three people you're grateful for, and write a short note for each.

INVENT-A-TITLE

Autumn Undercover

Describe what you'd find if you climbed inside an enormous pumpkin.

Invent an autumn beverage. Give it a creative name and describe the cozy feelings it evokes.

INVENT-A-TITLE

Gratitude Goblins

Would you rather have one giant turkey or one hundred tiny squirrels in your yard?

Write a Thanksgiving or Fall themed acrostic poem together as a family.

Write anything you want—as long as it makes you smile.

Would you rather jump in a huge leaf pile or carve the biggest pumpkin?

Describe something simple you're especially grateful for right now.

Write a short poem inspired by a colorful leaf you find outside.

Would you rather meet a talking owl or a singing scarecrow?

The autumn wind carried a smell I'd never forget.

Write a note of gratitude and hide it for someone else to discover.

INVENT-A-TITLE

The Great Thanksgiving Mix-Up

INVENT-A-TITLE

Twilight at Pinecone Cottage

Would you rather keep leaves colorful all year or have sweater weather last forever?

INVENT-A-TITLE

The Mystery of Maple Street

Design an imaginary fall creature and describe its habitat.

STORY STARTER

Grandma's pumpkin pie recipe had a secret ingredient nobody ever guessed.
